HLTA Online

Achieve your Higher Level Teaching Assistant accreditation through flexible delivery and assessment!

Strictly Education are the only providers of the Higher Level Teaching Assistant (HLTA) preparation and assessment in London and the South East regions. We are now also moving our services across to the West Midlands, Essex, Suffolk, Hertfordshire and South West England regions, where we will deliver all our training sessions remotely through interactive webinars.

Why HLTA?

- › HLTA status underpinned by National Standards
- › Rigorous high-quality external assessment
- › National moderation against HLTA standards
- › Formal recognition of higher-level working
- › Personal/professional development
- › Positive impact on pupils' progress
- › Increased support-staff confidence
- › Externally accredited and nationally recognised
- › Develop your workplace
- › Progression to qualified teacher status

Although HLTA preparation will be delivered online, all application criteria remains the same:

- › Competence in teaching and learning when working with individuals, groups and whole classes.
- › Experience in planning and delivering one-to-one, group and whole class learning activities.
- › At least Level 2 qualifications in Maths and English.

Applicants will be assessed against their knowledge, skills and attributes which are necessary for their roles.

Price:

HLTA online preparation cost £249 (plus VAT = £298.80)

Half day remote assessment £450
